Come join the AMC Maine Chapter for the Beginner Winter Hiking Series for Winter 2011 - 2012. This series is intended as introductory winter experiences for experienced three-season hikers and prior winter experience is generally not required to participate. The AMC Maine Chapter's experienced leaders will organize and guide the trips, which are weather and conditions dependent. The series includes trips which are relatively easy and gradually progresses to moderately difficult trips. It is not necessary to attend all trips in chronologic order, though later trips may require experience gained on earlier trips. These trips are free and open to the public. Please see www.amcmaine.org/calendar for more information and contact the listed leaders to sign up for individual trips.
