*"I look forward
to sharing with
you my love of
high places,
snow, and ice."*

Come join us to hear Jon Tierney, owner of Acadia Mountain Guides Climbing School, talk about ice climbing, equipment, safety, local routes, and the joy of spending winter on snow and ice in a safe and invigorating environment.

Jon is a registered Maine Guide, the Founding Director of the University of Maine outdoor education program, the Founding Director of the Professional Climbing Instructors Association (PCIA), PCIA Educational Director, and past member of the Board of Directors, Friends of Baxter State Park.
