

Saturday, April 4, 2009

South Portland Library

2 Broadway, South Portland

Please join us for a presentation by MESARD (Maine Search and Rescue Dogs) about how to keep your family safe and found in the Maine woods! This free program is designed for families with kids ages 4-12 to share how to be safe in the woods, including when they are separated or find themselves lost off the trail. Kids will learn how to stay found, basic survival skills, what to carry, and see a search dog demonstration. Parents will learn about how to make outings appropriate for their children's ability and interest level, while respecting their abilities and limitations. Bring your kids and learn the basics of staying found in this free workshop! Pre-registration is required; please contact Wanda Rice at 603-432-7840 or WandaRice@comcast.net.
